

Gypsy Moth Photos

Lucy Berilla

Female gypsy moths with egg masses. Depending on size, each egg mass can contain 1000 to 2000 eggs.

Betty Magaro

Female gypsy moths with egg masses on trunk of Hemlock. The female gypsy moth is too heavy to fly and will lay her eggs anywhere—on tree trunks, behind shutters on your house, under the cushions of your lawn furniture.

DCNR Website

The male gypsy moth –brown in color—you have seen these fluttering around your property!

DCNR Website

This is the gypsy moth larvae—the leaf eating caterpillar.